

Associate Strategy Consultant – London

Ocean Strategy

Ocean continues to rapidly establish itself as the pre-eminent strategy consultancy for top tier media companies and private equity clients investing in media assets in Europe and beyond.

Since our foundation at the turn of the century we have worked with over 100 clients covering every aspect of the most vibrant and dynamic sector of all.

We have an entrepreneurial culture that thrives on close team work and requires energy, enthusiasm and a dedication to achieving real change for our clients.

For further information about Ocean, visit www.oceanstrategy.com

The Opportunity

We are looking to add additional members to our team at the Associate/Senior Associate consultant level. Our current client list and pipeline of work means your knowledge of the media industry and responsibility will develop rapidly. This is a unique opportunity to join a highly successful firm at a key stage in its growth, offering unmatched professional and personal development.

The Person

We are looking for high-calibre individuals who are excited to join a dynamic strategy consulting firm focused on the media industry. You have already gained some professional experience, likely at a leading strategy consulting firm or in a challenging corporate role. Previous experience of the media industry is beneficial but not essential to the role. Outstanding analytical skills and demonstrated academic achievement (a 2.1 or First from a leading UK university or international equivalent), combined with a tenacious approach to solving important business issues are a must. You will have a high level of energy and enthusiasm and a genuine passion for strategy consulting.

How to apply

To apply for this position, please send your CV and covering letter to the following email address: recruitment@oceanstrategy.com, with reference number WS-0809-AC.